1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ Edmundo Nogales Ortiz and Juan Luis Gutierrez Granier, Bolivian Movimiento Nacionalista Revolucionario (MNR) exiles now in Peru, ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ still draws a paycheck from the Corporacion Nacional de Turismo in Lima, but does nothing at the corporation office "except sign his paycheck receipt." ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ it is common gossip among Peruvian army groups in Lima that Nogales and Gutierrez are planning a revolution in Bolivia for the month of April, with the tacit approval if not active participation of Lt. Col. Alfonso Llosa. 25X1X
 2. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ during a four-day surveillance maintained on Nogales, it was noted that he left his hotel around nine in the morning and walked directly to the National Tourist Corporation office, Colmena Derecha, returning after about an hour to his hotel room, where several people were always waiting for him. He usually remained in his room receiving visitors for the rest of the day. Hotel employees have expressed the opinion that the majority of these visitors were "not Peruvians". Their identity is not known at present.
 3. During this period Nogales paid one visit to the residence of Lt. Col. Llosa in the evening, and once he walked to the Ministry of Development and Public Works during the afternoon, where it is believed that he called at the Minister's office.
